THE ROSEBUD

FOREWORD

The purpose of this annual is to provide our parents and friends with the facts pertinent to our school life; to keep the memories of this scholastic life foremost in our minds; and to retain the standard of a school which has produced excellent volumes similar to this for many years.

THE ROSEBUD

DEDICATION

We, the Senior Class of the Waterloo High School, do hereby dedicate the twenty-second edition of The Rosebud to our friend and Superintendent,

MR. EZRA E. LOLLAR

as a recognition of the services and advice which he has extended to us during the past year.

JUST A WORD OF APPRECIATION

As Hoosiers we ought to have a feeling of gratitude that we are living in a state in which no school has been closed this year, and no child has been without school advantages. This speaks well for Indiana.

A year's successful school work is at an end. This success is largely due to the right attitude of pupils, parents, teachers, and the public, toward the school and its work.

The privileges that we are enjoying in America today are due to the provisions made through a democratic government, but democracy is on trial today the world over. Education is ever the liberalizing life of a people, and right conduct in life depends upon right teaching in school and home.

Some one has aptly said, "May we live to learn, and learn to live."

Ezra E. Lollar.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

This is station 1-9-3-4 broadcasting through the courtesy of Waterloo-Grant Township school. Folks, here's real news:

"33 SENIORS COME THROUGH WITH FLYING COLORS"

Upon entering Waterloo High School in 1930, there were 48 members. 5 left during the year. 44 returned in the fall of 1931, and 4 were lost during the year. 37 maintained the nearness of the goal. 4 left during the year. 35 faithful troopers returned undaunted and, with the exception of two, have upheld their principles to the end. They have completed the prelude to their maturity. They are standing on the threshold of a new life. Here's luck to you, Seniors of 1934!

This is all now, folks. Tune in at this time next year for station announcements. Stand by.

Leona Crooks—Announcer.

SENIOR CLASS POEM

"WE'LL NOT FORGET"

Say Jim and Charlie, Mary and June
From this old school we'll soon be thru.
I used to think how great 'twould be
When from books and study I'd be free.

But now as the time is here
I'm not ashamed to shed a tear
For I know that things can never be
The same again for you and me.

We soon shall part and each go his way
And few if any at home will stay,
But there's one thing we'll never do
And that's forget dear old "Waterloo."

Maurice Stroh.

THE CLASS OF 1935

As the solitary reaper who, at the end of a perfect day, looks over his work and gives praise to God, as the prosperous business man who, at the end of the year, satisfied, looks over his trial balance, so the class of 1935 at the close of its third year of high school work proudly looks over its record of achievements.

As Juniors we have decreased in number. Many have been called upon to cast their lot in different spheres of life; a few have been added to the class, until at present thirty-seven remain.

During these three years of toiling and rejoicing, we, as a class, took active part in all the social and athletic events. These activities were to promote harmony and fellowship, and to aid the students to meet the future with self-confidence and ability to contribute their bit to the betterment of life. In some things we have done, we find complete satisfaction.

Now that we have passed the third milestone, we are at present confronted with many perplexing problems. However, having withstood freshman spring, sophomore summer, and junior fall, we feel easily able to cope with the rigors of senior winter.

Olevia Metzger.

JUNIOR CLASS POEM

Here we are Juniors of '35,
Were always up and ready to strive
For any one who wants us to do,
Anything they want us to.
But that's O. K. we all are well,
So this little story I'm going to tell.

'Twas way back when, in '23
That this large class started out to be
The smartest class in all the land,
Evidently we work to beat the band.

But still we're gaining on and on,
And upon us it's beginning to dawn
So never again are we going to shirk,
We're always going to do our work.

We like all our teachers,
And school mates and friends,
So we're going to stick by them
Until it all ends.

We've had good superintendents
So we cannot holler,
But the kindest of all
Was Ezra E. Lollar.

Pauline Wing '35.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

In the year nineteen hundred thirty-three a class of thirty-two brilliant pupils entered their second year in high school. During the year one pupil entered the class and two withdrew leaving us a class of thirty-one to carry on.

We have done our share in school activities and entertainments. We have had one class party during the year.

We left the second year of high school gay and happy and we all hope to return next year as jolly juniors.

Thelma Warner '36.

Motto: "'Tis not the gale but the set of the sail that determines the way we shall go."

Flower: Meadow Daisy.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

The Freshman Class of thirty-four entered high school in September nineteen thirty-three, as a very proud bunch.

Several of the girl members of our class joined the Girl Reserve and several of the boys joined the Hi-Y.

We had a class meeting and decided on our class pennant, flower, and motto. It was decided for our pennant to be orange and white, our flower meadow daisy and our motto, "'Tis not the gale, but the set of the sail that determines the way we shall go."

It was decided to have two parties a semester and we have only had one so far which was held on November the seventeenth at the home of Miss Margaret Ellen Fee. We have not as yet decided when our next party will be.

Miss Harrison was appointed our class sponsor and to her we owe much credit.

Forty pupils were enrolled at the first of the year and five have left us, so we shall go on to our Sophomore year with thirty-five members.

Margaret Ellen Fee "37".

The Ciceronian Society was organized in about the year nineteen-four. We took our name from the great Roman orator and literary man Ciceco. Our colors are red and black. The purpose of this society is to enable students to practice using their talents.

We elected our officers for the term: Charles Corrigan, President; Hilda Cherry, Vice-president; William Hire, Secretary and Treasurer; Bill Holman, Sergeant-at-arms; Helen Fisher, Advisor.

We gave a program on Feb. 12, which proved to be a success. We played two games of basket ball with the Zedas at the close of the season, winning the boy's game and losing the girl's. A fine spirit of sportsmanship was shown by both players and rooters.

This has been an uneventful year for literary societies. Each one has presented one program. The Zedas presented the first one of the year; it was well received. Since that time the many other affairs of the school have interfered with the presentation of any further entertainments. Officials for the year were: Donald Hampshire Pres.; Leona Crooks, V.-Pres.; Avis Hall, Sec'y.; Edna Bowman, Treas.; Robert Groh, Sergeant-at-arms.

Third row: John Centa, Robert Fausett, James Shoemaker, Park Sebert.

The Waterloo Hi-Y began the school year of 1933-34 with ten members, but at the first semester five more were initiated into the secrets and privileges of our order. The new members, all Freshmen, have done a great deal to liven up the organization, for their attitude is the extreme opposite of the sidateness and nonchalance of juniors and seniors.

The club held social meetings each month in the homes of various members, which were always well attended, no doubt because the business meeting was short and the refreshments were excellent. As well as these monthly meetings, business meetings were held every two weeks on Wednesday afternoons, wherein business was discussed if there was any business. If we had no business on hand, it was the task of but a few minutes to make some.

As in preceding years the club cooperated with the Girls Reserve in conducting a party for the needy children of the community. This year the party was held on Christmas (or at least near Christmas); Santa Claus was present, and a fine time he had keeping his artificial obesity in place.

The Hi-Y conducted their yearly Bible Study just after Easter.

While this has not been an exceptionally good year for the club, we still feel pleased to have kept the organization going.

(The gentleman looking out the door is Charles Imler).

When the Girl Reserve met and organized in September, 1933, there were 22 old members. Recognition service was held in the U. B. church, and 12 new members were recognized, making a total of 34, including our sponsor, Miss Marcelle Smith.

At the beginning of the year a hot-dog roast was held in Goodwin's woods for all the high school girls to interest them in the organization.

In the latter part of October, the G. R. Annual District Conference was held in the high school building. Delegates from Angola, Garrett, Kendallville, and Butler attended. Over 200 attended this conference.

At the beginning of the term, the girls decided on a contest, in which two sides were chosen, headed by two girls. Various rules were to be abided by and a certain number of points were gained by conforming to these rules. A membership drive was included in the rules and the girls were enthusiastic in carrying out the contest.

The annual Mother-Daughter Banquet was held in the High School Auditorium on April 5. It was well attended and a very interesting talk was given by Mrs. Overmyer.

This year in the club has been greatly appreciated by all the members and we hope that others in the years to come will enjoy this club and carry out its purposes and the things for which it stands as we have done.

In September there were fifty-nine boys came forth to enroll in the Glee Club under the direction of Miss Marcelle Smith, but during the year they lost four. The boys Glee Club was divided into two classes, the Juniors and Seniors and the Freshmen and Sophomores. John Centa and Simeon Drew were elected librarians for the Juniors and Seniors. Derwood Smith and Frank Schomberg as the librarians for the Freshmen and Sophomores, with Philipine Buss, a Junior as accompanist. The Waterloo High School is very fortunate to have so many boys to take part in this work. The boys displayed their talents when they took part in the Operetta, "Bits O' Blarney" given on December 20. The boys Glee Club also sent 8 boys in a special chorus to the Festival held at Garrett, April 6. Their selections were as follows: "The Heavens Resounding" and "Asleep in the Deep". They also gave these numbers at the P. T. A. on April 9. The boys have shown a great interest in this work and have also gained great benefits. It is hoped that this same interest will be shown in the years to come.

The Girls Glee Club of Waterloo High School was organized under the supervision of our music instructor, Miss M. Smith. At the beginning of the year, seventy girls enrolled in the Glee Club classes but during the year four were lost and two were gained. It was divided into two classes, Juniors and Seniors, and Freshmen and Sophomores, which met once a week. Juniors and Seniors met on Monday afternoon and the Freshmen and Sophomores met on Wednesday afternoon. Ruth Keller and Beatrice Bevier were elected librarians of the Juniors and Seniors, and Martha Bolinger and Elizabeth Smith were elected librarians for the Freshmen and Sophomores. Many songs were worked on. They showed their talent when they presented the Operetta "Bits O' Blarney" on Dec. 20. Twenty girls went to the Festival held in Garrett, April 6, to sing in the County Chorus. They sang the following selections: "By the Waters of Minnetonka", "Glorious Forever", "The Green Cathedral", and "Allah's Holiday". A Special Chorus was sent consisting of 12 members, 6 girls and 6 boys which sang "Asleep in the Deep" and "The Heavens Resounding". These numbers were also given at P. T. A. April 9. All the girls have received much benefit and deserve much credit for their efforts in making the Glee Clubs a success.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND

First row: Ruth Keller, Billie Jones, Marie Imhoff, Garcile Miser, Beatrice Bevier, Laverne Smith, Andy Hampshire, drum major.

Second row: Wm. Hire, Jr., Fred Harless, Margaret Fee, Pauline Lung, Roger Ish, Nina Wilkins, Carma Roberts, Donald Bevier, George Culp.

Third row: Mary Fee, Elmer Shuman, Helen Bolinger, Helen Campbell, Harold McEntarfer, Budd Becher.

Inset: Mrs. Stage, director.

The band, under the direction of Mrs. Stage, has been organized four years. There has been a steady increase in membership from year to year until it now has a membership of forty. This is the first year that the band has had a drum major. A short time after the opening of school the band organized and elected the following officers: President, Charles Corrigan; Vice-President, Nina Wilkins; Secretary, John Centa, and Treasurer, William Hire.

On account of the increased membership of the band, it has become necessary to purchase additional uniforms, including one for our drum major. The expense to the organization was nearly one hundred dollars. We attended the district Band Contest at Huntington and placed in the second division, which is doing quite well for the number of seasoned members we lost last year. We were ranked well up in maneuvering during the grand parade. We also took part in the concert given by the two bands and the orchestra in the high school auditorium, April 12. During the summer months the Band presents weekly concerts for the business men of Waterloo.

We sincerely appreciate the kindness and co-operation that Mr. Lollar has given this organization and also the patience and untiring efforts of our able leader, Mrs. Stage.

Third row: William Hire, Fred Harless, Budd Becher.

ORCHESTRA

The Orchestra, under the able leadership of Mrs. Stage, has increased to a membership of twenty-six. It has been organized for about three years. The Orchestra had its regular meeting time each Tuesday the fifth school period. Each pupil has done his part to make this organization a success. It was organized at the beginning of the school year and those elected were as follows: Mary L. Fee, president; Budd Becher, vice-president; Charles Corrigan, secretary; John Centa, treasurer.

We joined the district contest this year and were placed in the first division by the judges' decision.

The Orchestra has played on several occasions this year, including: Junior Class Play, Senior Class Play, and Commencement. We also took part in a concert put on by the bands, preceding the contest.

This organization has been received well by the public and we hope this expression of public approval may continue in years to follow.

JUNIOR BAND

Three years ago the Junior Band was organized under the direction of Mrs. Stage. This organization has progressed rapidly and now has about thirty active members. It is made up of pupils up to the ninth grade. They have furnished music for the Parent-Teachers meeting and the seventh and eighth grade play. They also took part in the concert given by the two bands and the orchestra in the High School Auditorium, April 12. In the district contest at Huntington, our Junior Band was placed first.

Since the children in this band are so young, their mothers have an organization which takes care of their business and financial matters. We are proud of our Junior Band and are looking forward to having these boys and girls as valuable members of our High School Band.

THE ROSEBUD

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Donald Hampshire (Andy), Senior; Andy was our center this year and to us the best that Waterloo ever had. Many a game was won for us by his heavy scoring and control of the tip-off. No center that Andy came up against was able to take the tip from him. As a leader, and for loyalty to his team and coach, there were none better. Andy was high point man this year.

Charles Corrigan (Corry) Senior; Corry, our witty forward and center of this year's team. This is his second year on the squad. He played a consistent game on both offense and defense. With his ready wit and his ability at handling the ball, he was a valuable asset to the team.

William Hire (Bill) Senior; Bill held down the forward position, although he played equally well in any position. He showed plenty of the old pep and was one of the most valuable men on the bench. His four years of service showed his loyalty to W. H. S.

William Bixler (Bix) Senior; Bix our hard fighting forward of this year's team. He was handicapped by sickness which kept him out of the last two sectional tournaments. He deserves credit for his sensational defensive work. Many a time he has captured the ball and made one of his long shots, to win the game just as the final gun fired.

Simeon Drew (Sim) Senior; Sim played forward this year and despite his size, he was always in with the rest of them driving towards the basket. By his will and fight he made up for his short stature, and he will be greatly missed by next year's team.

Victor Dunn (Vic) Junior; Vic continued the long line of the basket ball-playing Dunns by clinging a guard position this year. He demonstrated in every game that he was in his power on the defense and his fighting spirit. Vic takes his game seriously and much is expected from him next year.

John Centa (Johnny) Junior; Johnny is another one of our Juniors. He showed a calm deliberate game at forward this year, always having the situation well in hand. He is very consistent fighter taking his game very seriously. Johnny has made many a point by one of his famous set long shots.

Donald Kaiser (Kize) Junior; Kize, our smart, fast playing little guard. He is an all around player being good at anything but center, which last we attribute to his short stature. He will be back again next year and is expected to be the spark plug of next year's team.

Robert Rohm (Bob) Junior; Bob played guard this year. He made up for his size by his cleverness and his speed. Rohm is a good offensive man and will mean a lot to next year's team.

Richard Harpster (Harpy) Sophomore; This was Harpy's first year on the squad. He is a dependable man and a valuable man to the next year's team.

Bud Dunn (Bud) Sophomore; Bud is another one of our Sophomore guards. He is also a dependable man and keeps cool in the pinches. Bud is fast and will need watching.

Charles Imler (Imler) Junior; Imler, playing guard this season showed he was a hard fighter. His willingness and determination will get him a place next season.

Budd Becher—Manager. Budd was our faithful manager throughout the season and deserves much credit for his work

Wayne Johnson—Score Keeper.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

We owe most of our victories to Miss Harrison, our coach. The 1933-34 team was noted for its dauntless spirit and pep. The loss of players by the scarlet fever epidemic caused some drastic changes in the line-up.

Zola Wolford, our captain, will be missing in the starting line next year. More than one of our victories were due to the fighting spirit of Zola.

Farel Baker, our speedy forward, deserves praise for her scoring ability. She will not be with us next year.

Pauline Lung and Avis Hall played a great defensive game this year and will certainly be missed from the starting line-up next year. Avis is a scarlet fever victim.

Lucille Frick, our peppy forward, made plenty of competition for her opponents. We were all sorry to lose her because of the epidemic and hope to see her back next season.

Marjorie Cherry played a strong defensive game at center. She has two more years to go.

Elizabeth Smith was our high point forward. She is just a Sophomore and should prove very valuable to the team for the next two years.

Raeburn McIntosh, speedy sub-forward, is just a Sophomore and has a chance to make a regular for the next two years.

Pauline Wing and Phyllis Deetz, sub-guards, are expected to hold responsible positions next year. They play a hard and speedy game.

Carma Roberts, sub-side center, has a lot of fighting spirit and is expected to do much for the team next year.

We owe much of our pep and spirit for the past season to Margaret Ellen Fee and Dorothy McBride, the yell leaders.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

The vocational agriculture subjects taught this year are: Animal Husbandry, Farm Shop, and Biology. Physics is open to all Juniors and Seniors.

In biology we have three recitations each week and two double periods in the laboratory. The main subject studied in biology is life; both plant and animal. An insect collection is made in the fall and a flower collection in the spring. These are exhibited at some P. T. A. meeting.

The farm shop class studies the use, construction and care of farm tools and machinery and some mechanical drawing. Four double periods are spent in the shop each week and the other day as project day. The pupils projects cover any enterprise carried on on a farm. They are all asked to join the 4-H club.

The Animal Husbandry Class makes a study of feeding, housing, and judging of livestock. Each pupil is required to complete two projects each year. They are asked to join the 4-H club. As a method of studying we make field trips to different farms so real practice can be obtained. We also attended an International Farm Machinery demonstration in Waterloo and a weed school at Auburn. One boy won a trip to the state fair through livestock judging.

Kendall Ober.

VOCATIONAL HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Economics Department experienced a very successful year with sixteen girls in the advanced class and fifteen in the Freshman class. Hot lunches were not served this year because of the lack of funds, but with the money from the sale of candy at school and profits derived from serving special dinners such as the Girls Reserve's Mother and Daughter Banquet, Thanksgiving dinner and the Basket Ball Banquet, the Home Economics kitchen and study hall were greatly improved.

The cupboards were redecorated as well as the stoves; the working tables were equipped with rollers; a cleaning closet was built; silverware containers were made and curtains and linen were bought. The clothing department received a new pinking machine, (so as to lessen the difficult task of pinking by hand). The department also bought a good supply of text books.

The advanced class enjoyed an educational trip to the Irene Byron Sanatorium near Fort Wayne. They had a very enjoyable trip visiting the hospital, the children's home, the dining rooms, the kitchen, and the X ray room.

The subjects of the Freshman class were: General Home Economics, including Foods, Clothing, Child care, and the study of Home and Family Relationships. The subjects of the advanced class were: Advanced Home Management and Nutrition's the first semester, Family Relationships and advanced Clothing the second semester.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

The commercial department, divided into five groups, Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Typing, Commercial Law, and Commercial Arithmetic, are under the supervision of Mr. Culver Bailey and Mr. Charles Overmyer. Mr. Bailey teaches Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Typing, and Commercial Arithmetic. Mr. Overmyer teaches Commercial Law.

In Bookkeeping class there are 27 students and besides studying the theory of bookkeeping keep a set of books such as are used in a modern office.

In Shorthand there are 15 students and besides studying vocabulary building they have learned to take dictation and to transcribe it on the typewriter.

In Typing class there are 21 students and each student besides learning the essential parts of a typewriter has learned to do copy work rapidly and to take dictation. They have also learned the technique of typing, letter writing, tabulation and speed building. They have also learned to make fancy designs with the typewriter for covers, displays, etc.

In Commercial Arithmetic class there are 33 students and besides studying business problems do outside work and study the meaning and use of the different words and phases connected with the Commercial World.

In Commercial Law there are 16 students and besides studying a text book they study actual cases and solve cases dealing with the Commercial World.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Only two meetings of the Waterloo Parent-Teachers Association were held this year, due to the epidemic of scarlet fever. But it can not fairly be said that the organization has been inactive.

The P. T. A. assisted in the production of the home talent play "The World's All Right", which was sponsored by the Ladies Kitchen Band, and received a percent of the proceeds to help in its work, as did the High School Band.

The officers of the P. T. A. this year were: President, Mrs. Rachael Silberg; Vice-President, Mr. Ezra Lollar; Secretary, Mrs. Thomas Hoxey, and Treasurer, Miss Helen Fisher.

The first meeting of the organization was held in November, 1933, and the special feature was an exhibit of the work of the first six grades of the school. Games were played in the assembly room of the high school, and ice cream and cake were served.

The second meeting was in April, and the feature was an exhibit of the work of the work of the Junior High School and the High School, including not only exhibits or art, writing, graphdrawing, and so on, but acted examples of the work of some classes, such as the Physical Education classes, the Latin Classes, the Glee Clubs, and English classes. Punch and cake were served.

We feel that the Parent-Teachers Association is every year improving the relation and attitude between the school and the home, and hope that it will continue this good work as long as Harmony is a Virtue.

Mr. Overmyer: (in U. S. History)
Name two Indian tribes of Mississippi, and give something about their habits and costumes.

Dorothy Davis: The Coca Colas and the Semicolans. They wore feathers in their costumes and their habits were bad.

Bob Arnold went in Voss' barber shop the other night, and told Voss he wanted a shave. Voss lathered him up, then went and sat down in an easy chair and assumed a waiting and patient attitude.

Arnold: Well, Barber, are you going to shave me?

Voss: Sure I am.

Arnold: Well, why don't you get busy?

Voss: I gotta wait for the whiskers to grow, don't I?

Mr. Smith: Why are you boys so slow coming up those steps?

Wayne Bookmiller: We're carrying this desk up stairs.

Mr. Smith: I don't see any desk.

Bookie: For heaven's sake, Corry,
we've forgot the desk!

Mr. Overmyer: (who has been telling the World History class about Columbus) And all this happened more than 400 years ago.

Bob Groh: Gee! What a memory you've got!

When Elizabeth Smith was in the second-grade, her teacher asked her in geography class:

Teacher: Elizabeth, what is the shape of the world?

Lizzie: My dad says it's in bad shape.

Otto McDonald came home crying
after his first day here in school.

Mother: What is the matter, Otto?

Otto: I don't like the teachers.

Mother: Why, you don't know them
yet. What have they done to you?

Otto: One of them pointed to a seat and said, "You sit here for the present,"
and she never brought it.

The teacher was drawing pictures on the board and asked each individual what animal was represented?

(Pauline Lung at this time was in the First Grade.)

Teacher: Mary, what is this?

Mary: A kitten.

Teacher: Oswald, what is this?

Oswald: A dog.

Teacher: Tommy?

Tommy: Elephant.

Then teacher drew a picture of a deer
and calling on Pauline, said:

Teacher: Pauline, what is this?

Pauline: I don't know.

Teacher: Think hard—What does your mother call your father?

Pauline: But—a jackass doesn't have horns!

Mr Bailey: What is the interest on a thousand dollars for one year at two per cent? Thayer, pay attention!

Thayer Bonecutter: For two per cent
I ain't interested.

Store Owner: So you think you can dress a window so that every young woman who passes will stop and look at it? Well, what would you do first?

Andy Hampshire: (looking for a job)
I'd put a big mirror in the window, and—

Store Owner: That's enough—we want you for a partner, not an employee.

THE ROSEBUD

JOKES

Budd Becher: (in poetic frenzy, as they stroll along the shore) Roll on, thou deep and dark blue ocean, roll!

Helen Bolinger: Oh, Budd, how wonderful you are. It's doing it!

There is the ancient and honorable tale of the policeman who found a dead horse lying on a street corner. Under the rules he was required to enter the fact in his notebook. He got out the book and then remembered that this was the corner of Terpsichore Street and Kosciusko Boulevard.

So he put the book back in his pocket, rolled up his sleeves, spat on his hands, took deceased by the tail and dragged his remains two blocks east to the corner of First and Elm.

Farel Baker: (in book store) I want to get a good novel to read on the train—something pathetic.

Salesman: Let me see, how would "The Last Days of Pompeii" do?

Farel: "Pompeii?" I never heard of him. What did he die of?

Salesman: I'm not quite sure. Some kind of eruption, I guess.

One day after Mr. Bailey had gone out for lunch, one of the boys pinned a notice on the door of the typing room, which read, "Mr. Bailey will be back at 1 o'clock."

When Mr. Bailey came back, at 12:30 so it happened, he read the notice, looked at his watch, and sat down on the floor to wait for himself to get back.

Mr. Bailey: Gertrude, I believe I have lost the road.

Mrs. Bailey: But, Culver, are you sure you had it when we left the house?

W..... B..... to D..... H.....

Dear D.....,

Now may Olympus quake, the caverns Earth roar, Neptune boil, Luna, the pale moon, become green cheese, (which she is). Mr. Smith check up the attendance properly, and things go to pieces in general, if I do not love you with all my heart, soul, and appendix operation.

Listen, skirt, for one kiss (to be respectfully bestowed on the toe of one of your No. 11's), I would out-Leander Leander, and swim the Hellespont, not one time, but 20 times, amid sharks and whales and snakes and school teachers and other carnivorous and venomous creatures. For one touch of your lily white hand, I would bring you the Red Sea for a fishpond, and the Himalayas for a rock-garden.

How could you believe me unfaithful, thou art hard-hearted frail, the pearl of the sky-blue waters? How may I convince you of my undying and all-conquering love?

Yours forever,

W..... B.....

P. S.—I'll be over Saturday night if it doesn't rain.

W. B.

Merlen Newcomer: I never had such a tough time in my life. First I get angina pectoris, followed by arteriosclerosis.

Just as I was recovering from these I got tuberculosis, double pneumonia and phthisis. Then they gave me hypodermics.

Appendicitis was followed by a tonsilotomy.

I don't know how I pulled through it. It was the hardest spelling test I've ever seen.

First Constable: Did you get that feller's number?

Second C.: Naw, he was too fast for me.

First C.: That was a pretty brown-eyed gal he had in the back seat.

Second C.: It sure was.

Mr. Overmyer: (Health Education) Where in the heart are the auricles and ventricles found?

Wayne Bookmiller: On the inside.

Mr. Smith: (in the Assembly) Physics class bring textbooks, pen, ink and plenty of paper.

Mr. Bailey: (Typing Class) Clark, what is a mimeograph?

Clark Farrington: (who doesn't know) It's a thing you crank.

Otto McDonald: Mr. Smith, what is steel wool?

A. J. Smith: Steel wool, my boy, is wool off a hydraulic ram.

John Centa: (gazing at set of false teeth in dentist's showcase) Those are the kind of teeth I'm going to get when I get big.

His mother: John, how many times have I told you not to pick your teeth in public?

Don Turner: Dad, what is influence?

Mr. Turner: Influence, my son, is something you think you have until you try to use it.

Mr. Overmyer: (Health Ed. again) What is the connection between body and mind?

Chas. Corrigan: (aside to your humble Jokes Editor) The neck.

Overmyer: May it be severed, cut off, or what have you?

Corry: (he is the soul of discretion, so this is also an aside) Just give me a razor, and I'll demonstrate on Frank Schomberg.

Mr. Smith: (in Animal Husbandry) What is the effect of fatigue?

Bob Newcomer: (covering a wide yawn with his hand) That tired feeling.

Miss Harrison: Use the word triangle in a sentence.

Budd Dunn: If fish don't bite on grasshoppers, triangle worms.

Don Bevier: My sister is awfully lucky.

Ward Castret: Why?

Don: She went to a party last night where they played a game in which the men either had to kiss the girls or pay a forfeit of a box of candy.

Ward: Well, how was your sister lucky?

Don: She came home with thirteen boxes of candy.

Miss Fisher: Merlen, your essay on "My Mother" was just the same as Helen's.

Merlen Newcomer: Yes, ma'am, we have the same mother.

Bob Rohm to Policeman: My hat blew off. Let me go get it?

Policeman: You can't fool me like that. You stay here, I'll get the hat.

Olevia Metzger attended a health lecture, and stayed behind to ask the lecturer a question.

"Did I understand you to say", she asked, "that deep breathing kills microbes."

"I certainly did say that many microbes are killed by deep breathing."

"Then can you tell me, please," she asked, "how one can teach the microbes to breathe deeply?"

Elmer Schuman: Why, Beatrice, where have you been?

Beatrice Bevier: To the Beauty Shop.

E. S.: Oh! You didn't get waited upon did you?

Otto McDonald: Mother, do I have to wash my face?

Mother: "Certainly, dear."

Little Otto: "Aw, why can't I just powder it like you do yours?"

SAFETY FIRST

A "blind" beggar sat at the subway entrance with a tin cup in his hand. A passer-by somewhat under the influence of alcohol, took out his pocket flask, and started to pour a drink into the old man's cup.

The beggar peered from behind his black glasses suddenly, saw the flask, and yelled—"Nix! Nix! none of that stuff. Do you think I want to go blind?"

Joyce Hampshire: My brother takes up Spanish, French, English, Italian, German, and Scotch.

George Hire: Goodness, when does he study?

Joyce: Study? He doesn't study—he runs an elevator.

What are glaciers?

Guys that fix windows when they are broken.

What is a peninsula?

A bird that lives on icebergs.

What is a volcano?

A mountain with a hole in the top. If you look down you can see the creator smoking.

Why does a dog hang out his tongue when running?

To balance its tail.

What are the Christian nations?

Those that use cuss words.

What is etiquette?

Saying "No thank you", when you mean "gimme."

"Fare, please! Fare!

William Hire paid no heed.

"Fare, please!"

Still Hire was oblivious.

"By the ejaculatory term 'Fare,' said the conductor, "I imply no reference to the state of the weather, the complexion of the admirable blond you observe in the contiguous seat, nor even to the quality of the service vouchsafed by this philanthropic corporation. I merely alluded in a manner perhaps lacking in delicacy, but not in conciseness, to the monetary obligation set up by your presence in this car and suggest that you liquidate."

At this point Hire emerged from his trance, and produced his pass.

A. J. Smith: Why don't you answer me?

JOKES

Bill Bixler: (puts on his most seductive smile as the pretty waitress came to take his order)

Nice day, little one.

Yes, it is, she replied, and so was yesterday, and my name is Ella, and I know I'm a pretty girl and have lovely blue eyes, and I've been here quite a while, and I like the place, and don't think I'm too nice a girl to be working here. My wages are satisfactory and I don't think there's a show or dance in town tonight, and if there was I wouldn't go with you. I'm from the country and I'm a respectable girl, and my brother is the cook in this hotel, and he was a college football player and weighs three hundred pounds; last week he pretty nearly ruined a $25-a-week traveling man who tried to make a date with me; now, what'll you have—roast beef, roast pork, Irish stew, hamburger or fried liver?

English Peddler: (selling big red hairy gooseberries)—Fine gooseberries! Two pence a pound!

Lady: These gooseberries are very fine—but don't you think they're rather dirty, young man?

Peddler: Well! You cawn't hexpect us to give them a barth and comb their 'air for two pence a pahnd, ma'am.

Robert Fausett: Rohm, what is a niche in a church?

Bob Rohm: Why, it's just the same as an itch anywhere else, only you can't scratch it as well.

Ralph Sebert: (trying to teach a Freshman the directions) If you stand facing the north, what have you on your left hand?

Bill Holman: Fingers.

Dessie Hancock: Who is the smartest man living?

Irene Friend: Thomas A. Edison. He invented the phonograph and the radio so people would stay up all night and use his electric light globes.

IN THESE UNITED STATES

People are put to death by elocution. Newspapers are useful for reporting calamities, such as deaths, marriages, etc.

To be called to the Bar is to be treated to a drink.

A bibulous man is one that frequently quotes from the Scriptures.

George Denison: (to Dr. Ish) Say, Doc, I guess I've got the measles, but I can keep it quiet.

Dr. Ish: What are you talking about, keep it quiet?

George: Aw, get wise, Doc, what'll you give me to go to school and scatter it among the rest of the kids?

Wayne Bookmiller: (helping Otto McDonald get his World History) Who fiddled while Rome burned?

Otto: Hector.

Booky: No.

Otto: Towser.

Booky: Towser! What are you getting at? It was Nero.

Otto: Well, sir, I know it was somebody with a dog's name.

DEFINITIONS

A synonym is a word you use when you can't spell the other.

The equator is a menagerie lion running around the center of the earth.

A restoration is a talk that puts you to sleep.
